The States of Jersey has been issuing its own bank notes since July 1963. 2010 sees the introduction of the latest £1, £5, £10, £20 and £50 notes.

As is traditional in Jersey, the front of the notes bear a hand engraved, intaglio portrait of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II and the words States of Jersey above the Island crest.

For this new series, different aspects of Jersey's architecture, history and culture are highlighted with the central vignettes on both the front and reverse featuring important architectural and sculptural landmarks. The reverse of each note carries the denominational value in both numbers and in French and Jèrriais, the words États de Jersey and the twelve parish crests. In addition to the usual security features the £10, the £20 and the £50 notes carry a hologram.

£1

Une Livre Un Louis

The Fresh Green £1 note shows the 'Monument to Freedom' sculpture in Liberation Square, which celebrates the momentous announcement of the liberation of the island from Nazi forces and the end of the Second World War. The reverse features the Neolithic ritual site of La Hougue Bie, which was built about 4,000 BC, and Le Hocq Tower.

£5

Cinq Livres Chîn Louis

The Sky Blue £5 note depicts two important Jersey houses: the sixteenth century National Trust property 'Le Rât Cottage' on the front, and 'Les Augrès Manor', the home of the Durrell Wildlife Conservation Trust, on the reverse. The reverse also carries an image of Archirondel Tower.

£10

Dix Livres Dgiêx Louis

The Burnt Sienna £10 note has the Hermitage at Elizabeth Castle on the front. This medieval chapel was built over the site where St Helier lived and died in the sixth century. The reverse of the note shows the unique Lalique glass sculptures in St Matthew's church, St Lawrence and Seymour Tower.
