Good morning,

I write further to the message you received last week from [REDACTED] about a petition for consideration by the Committee for the Affairs of Guernsey and Jersey. I must confess, I have not personally seen a petition come through before. Speaking to colleagues, I understand that there is nothing procedurally for us to do. However, I wanted to double-check and I would be very grateful for your advice on whether, from the Committee's perspective, there is anything you would expect to see done procedurally by the States Greffe in Jersey in respect of such a petition.

I have taken a look at the correspondence from [REDACTED] and have noted [REDACTED] comments about the service [REDACTED] received when [REDACTED] visited our Information Centre about this matter. That is something we can certainly address, so that we can be clear with our advice to anyone in a similar position in the future as to what they should do. In that regard, if there were any steer you wished to provide us as to what advice / information we should provide (e.g. to whom any correspondence should be addressed), I would be very happy to ensure that was disseminated here.

Thank you very much for your help.

Kind regards,
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
