WHAT IS AN APPRENTICESHIP?

Apprenticeships are real jobs where apprentices earn a salary.

Apprenticeships take between one and five years to complete, depending upon the level of apprenticeship and the industry sector.

Most of the training is delivered in the workplace, so you will learn the skills you need to do the job well.

Apprentices not only have better long term salary prospects, but they also have excellent progression opportunities, whether looking to study further or excel within the workplace

Training is specifically tailored to ensure that the apprentice develops skills that employers want, giving apprentices a real advantage in the workplace

The rest of the training is given by a training organisation, either at the workplace, off-site (perhaps at college) or via e-learning

FEEDBACK FROM OUR CLIENTS

"I've had the best experience so far with my mentor, she has given me so much motivation and confidence in the short time we have been working together"
– Apprentice

"I've been really happy working with Trackers, who support my two apprentices. The mentor's advice and guidance has helped me and the young people I employ. I look forward to continuing to work with Trackers."
– Employer

"The mentors have been great and have responded quickly to concerns when we have delivered training to apprentices where it has not been what they expected or out of their comfort zone"
– Training Provider
