eco active business network | member application

Eco active business members must show continued improvement in environmental performance. You also need to prove you meet local environmental legislation requirements. To become an eco active business member, complete this form and the environmental legislation assessment and email them to us ecoactive@gov.je.

If your business stores or uses any substances that could cause pollution you will also need to produce a pollution prevention plan. We do not need to receive a copy of your pollution prevention plan.

Your membership must be renewed each year by completing the annual return. The annual return form will be emailed to you and asks you to identify actions for the year ahead and record the progress you have made.

The annual return must be submitted by 31 March.

If you have any difficulties completing the application, please contact us at ecoactive@gov.je.

Eco actions	By joining eco active you are signing up to improve your business's environmental performance. We believe in step-by-step improvement so ask that you set and deliver at least two actions per year. You must set one carbon reduction action (or energy reduction) action and one action from another environmental area. If you have a more detailed environmental action plan, submit it to us in a separate attachment. In the space below identify the two priority actions that you will complete this year.
Action 1: Carbon emissions reduction / energy
Action 2: Water / Waste / Transport / Conservation / Procurement

Tick here if you are providing an additional environmental action plan
If you are having difficulty identifying actions our website has examples and ideas setting actions

Pollution prevention plan	All leader businesses are expected to have a pollution prevention plan. This plan may be imbedded into other risk management plans. These plans do not need to be submitted to eco active.
Do you have a complete pollution prevention plan for each site(s)?	Yes	No

Off-site pollution prevention	If your business transports or uses potentially polluting substances away from your main site, you should include potential impacts on the environment within normal operational risk assessments.
