53,000 Islanders are invited to join the Government’s COVID-19 regular workforce testing programme.

Are you one of them?

Islanders who work in any of the following areas can book an appointment and become part of a regular testing programme. You will be tested every eight weeks; this will help to contain the virus and will prevent COVID-19 clusters from forming in areas which provide public-facing services and keep our Island running. Please note you DO NOT have to isolate pending your results.
