This application form is for the issue of an animal health import licence. You must also find out if the animal(s) you wish to import are listed under the Convention on the International Trade in Endangered Species of Wild Flora and Fauna (CITES). If so you must obtain the appropriate licences from the Department of the Environment and your country of export; failure to do so could result in the specimens being impounded at Customs. For a full explanation of CITES and for specific identification see www.cites.org or telephone the Department of the Environment for advice.
